Trini of Samuel Keys for the Murder of his Wife. KINGS COUNTY COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER. Before Judge Emott and Associates, Edmmons and Schoonmaker.

The case of Samuel Keys, indicted for the murder of his wife Mary, was tried yesterday. John G. Schumaker, Esq., District Attorney, appeared for the people, and H A. Moore and Samuel Reynolds, Esqs., for the prisoner. Keys was indicted for having on the 9th of June last eaten and kicked his wife in such a manner as to caus ther death. He was a mason, and she a woman of very intemperate habits. They resided in a basement of a house in Hoyt, near Butler street. She had been intoxicated nearly all day, and in the afternoon he came home from his work early. Two children, residing in the same ouse, state that soon after he came in he commend kicking and beating her, and soon afterwards she was found lying on a bed dead. When the officers went to ad lying on a bed dead. When the officers went to sat him he expressed but little concern at the death of wife, and said that she ought to have been dead long. He was arrested and taken to the station house and sequently indicted. Both parties were known to be of rrelsome disposition and indulged in frequent fights, hat the fact of his beating her excited but little remark as time. The prisoner, is a man about 45 years of age, appears but little affected by the position in which he laced.

and appears but little affected by the position in which he is placed.

The case was opened for the prosecution and the foltowing testimony was taken.—

Win it Van Duyne, physician—Reside at 315 Gold street; conducted a post mortem examination on the body of Mary Keys about the 10th of June, in Hoyt street, near Butler, the examination was made fourteen hours after death; found a large contused wound at the outer edge of the left eye brow; a smaller one at the outer edge of the left eye brow; a smaller one at the outer edge of the right; a small contused wound at the centre of the right; heek; as maller one at the outer edge of the mouth on the left sine; three scratches about 15 miches to the left of the median line; one about an inch to the right; a contused wound in the middle of the left collar bone; two contused wounds on the posterior portion of each clow; after removing the skulicap about three ounces of coagniated blood was found between the membrane and brain, on the right; side; about half an ounce on the left side, and between three and four cances at the base of the brain; the other organs were all healthy; she dud from compression of the brain, caused by extravasated blood; these wounds would have caused it.

Cross-examined by Mr. Moore—Never saw the woman before; went to see her at request of Coroner Redding; found lear in a room off the kitchen of the basement; three wounds might have been caused by falling against a projecting body; the skin was not broken at the edge of the left eye; the scratches were simple abrasions of the skin; it would be difficult to produce such wounds by falling on the sidewalk; falling down these steps might have produced the wounds if she fell against a projecting body.

Direct resumed—There was some tumefaction which could have been produced by striking; there was no fracture of the skull; beating would have caused a rupture of a blood vessel.

E. C. McGrath—Am a physician, and assisted in the post mortem examination; the wounds on the back might have been caused by case was opened for the prosecution and the fol-

Cross-examined—A fall would be a more likely cause, as falling down steps; the wounds might have been caused in various ways; the marks on the neck I should judge were produced by linger nails; but so many things might have produced such scratches, that I should besitate to swear that they were produced by linger nails; there were no brul-es on the knees.

William Wilson, noliceman, sworn—Saw prisoner June 10, about six o'clock; saw a crowd at the corner of Hoyt and Butter streets; then went into the house and saw officer Brannigan there; spoke to the woman and found she was dying; the prisoner had a child in his arms, and was putting an apron or something on it; lead the woman was dying; he said "she ought to have been dead long ago;" I arrested him and said to him, that it was an awful thing for him to beat his wife so; he said "she deserved all she had got;" he did not appear to be in liquor.

Cross-examination.—He resisted going with me; he had on oversits, but saw no blood on his clothes; there was blood o in the floor, but there was much tramping on the floor; she was lying on a mattress on the floor.

Catharine King sworn.—Keys: wife slept with me the night before she died; I live in the back basement; three children and myself in the family; my husband was absect in Boston; had a boy Il years old next March; a girl 9 years old; defendant did not see her in my apartment in the morning; saw her during the morning in her room with he child an her lap; the child appeared sick; about Beston, had a boy 11 years old next March; a girl old; defendant old not see her in my apartment in sing; saw her during the morning in her room child in her lap; the child appeared sick; about lock saw her, and she was drunk; the child was mk; Keys was not there; about hoon saw the child ad its face was bloody as though it had fallen; this as about two years old; the baby was about three old.

James King sworn.—Knows Keys and wife; saw him sick her in the face, head and on the side the day she same. King sworn.—Knows Keys and wife; saw him tick her in the face, head and on the side the day she died; it was a great while before she died that he kicked her; I saw him from a back window; I thought he kicked her because she was drunk; he said nothing when he kicked her; he told her to lie down, and she would not, when ed her; he told her to lie down, and she would not, when he gave her a kick and made her lie down; she tried to get up, when he gave her two or three kicks, and I wont away; told my mother of the occurrence; saw him afterwards sitting by the table, and she was sitting up in the bed; this was a long while after he had kicked her; her hair was hanging down; neither said anything, and the little child was lying in the cradle; Mrs. Keys' eyes were all black and blue and the jaws were broken.

Cross-examined—This was after dinner time; did not see her out of the house after he kicked her; I called out to my aster, and she looked in the window; when he came home he had white overalls on; was not there when the officer took him away; when he came home she was lying on the bed getting sober; was drunk all day.

John Branagan, policeman, testified to being called on to go into Keys' house on the evening of the 10th June; he was sitting with his back to the mantel in the large room; two children were there—one standing at the foot of the bed; went into the other room and saw the body of the woman lying on a mattress; came out and said, "Killed and be d—d! she ought to have been dead years ago;" when he came home, he said, she was drunk, and he found a bottle of brandy in bed with her; he asked me if he should consider himself under arrest; he accumed quite composed and sober.

and be found a bottle of brandy in bed with her; he asked me if he should go for a doctor; witness told him no, and said he should consider himself under arrest; he accumed quite composed and sober.

Cross-examination—Bid not say where he came from, but said that when he came home he found the bottle of brandy in bed with her, and she in bed; gave no reason for wishing to get rid of the child; he had on white overalls, but there was no blood on his clothes; he made resistance to going with Wilson, but made no objection to going with me; when I went there he was sitting by the crib of the child and rocking it.

James Berry—Knows Keys and Jimmy King; knows the day on which Mrs. Keys' died; went around to Jimmy King's, house, and he called me to look into Mrs. Keys' room, when I saw Keys, who said to his wife, "Ha, ha, now will you lie down, Mary?" saw him standing in the room; did not see her as there was some clothes hanging up. Prosecution then closed, and defence proceeded to open, when the law was stated by H. A. Moore, and the case of The People vs. Butler cited.

Judge Emott—Under the decision of the general term this will be manslaughter in the fourth degree, by the decision of the general term in the case of Jeremian Butler. The defendant's counsel proceeded to open the case, and called Anna Mallon—Saw the child of Keys coming up the street with blood on her dress, crying; took it into the house and saw the baby in the cradle; saw Keys sitting down; Mrs. Keys was sitting with his head in his band; it was half past five; after that, about six o'clock, he was going into the station house smiling; saw him in the charge of the officers.

The defence her erested the case, stating that they had a number of witnesses which they would like to examine, going into the station house smiling; saw him in the charge of the officers.

The defence here rested the case, stating that they had a number of witnesses which they would like to examine, but they were not present.

The Court thought that the case might as well be closed this afternoon as to escopy snother day. He suggested to counsel that they should both sum up the case, and he would charge the jury to morrow. Mr. Reynolds then proceeded to sum up the case for the defence. He consended that there was nothing in the evidence to substantiate the allegations made by the District Attorney in his topening. Mr. Reynolds proceeded to amayze the testimony given in the case, and contended that there was nothing in the case to show that the prisoner was guilty of murder, and if guilty of anything it was that of manslanghter in the third or fourth degree. He contended that the conduct of the prisoner at the time of the commission of the deed was not that of a person guilty of killing his wife. He consended that the prisoner was innocent of the crime that that been charged upon him.

The District Attorney followed at some length, when the Court adjourned.

Court adjourned.

The case will be submitted to the jury this morning.

BROADWAY THEATRE-NO. LETTER AND ALTERATIONS During the week extensive alterations have been made in this theatre to prepare for its opening as an amphitheatre on Monday next. The whole of the stage has been re moved, the side scenes taken away, and a false stage erected five or six feet lower than the old one. Upon this has been constructed an arena for equestrian exhibitions which arena is upon the level of the old stage, and slope: to the footlights, so as to give a full and unobstructed view of the ring from every part of the house. The ma nager has engaged a very large equestrian company, with Van Amburgh's menagerie, and intends to give entertain-ments after the style of the Paris and London amphitheatres. It will be something altogether new for this city, and should be highly successful.

MRS. KEMBLE'S READINGS.—The first of the series of Shaksperean readings announced by Mrs. Kemble was given on Tuesday evening last to a large and appreciative audience, assembled in the lecture room of the University Medical College. The play selected was "Cymbeline," in the reading of which Mrs. Kemble sustained the high repulation which she has so deservedly acquired. To-night she will read "Richard III."

Board of Aldermen.

The President, John Clancy, Esq., in the chair.

THE RE-ORGANIZATION OF THE FINANCE DEPARTMENT.

The report of the Committee on the Re-organization of the Finance Department was called up by Alderman Mc Spedon, and again partly read, when the further reading was suspended, on motion of Alderman Corwin, and the bject was made a special order for Monday next.

THE INCREASE OF SALARY FOR THE CHIEF ENGINEER. A resolution to concur with the Board of Councilmen to increase the salary of Harry Howard, Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, to $5,000.

Alderman Tucker opposed the resolution, and said that

$3,000 was salary enough for the head of the Fire Depart-

$3,000 was salary enough for the head of the Fire Department.

Alderman BLUNT also opposed the increase.

Alderman CLANCY, the President, advocated the claim of the present incumbent to the consideration of the Board. The duties were arduous, and they had been performed and managed by Mr. Howard with better tact and with greater efficiency than any other officer who held the same position. The losses since Mr. Howard has held the position of Chief Engineer have been sixty per cent less than under any previous chief. It appeared from the public records, that under Mr. Carson the losses by fire were approximating one million and a quarter of dollars, whilst under Mr. Howard the losses during his term have been only $350,000—a small proportion compared with that of his predecessors. Mr. Howard had lost his health in the service, yet injured in health as he has been, he attends to every fire that occurs in the city.

he has been, he attends to every fire that occurs in the city.

Alderman BLUNT said there were less fires in the city since the appointment of Mr. Howard as Chief Eagmeer, but he attributed it to the efficiency of the Fire Marshal—Mr. Alfred E. Baker.

Alderman Owaxs also opposed the increase of pay to Chief Engineer Howard, and said that the Fire Department was not now in as good a condition as when Mr. Carson was at the head of it.

Alderman Tucker agreed with the Alderman of the Sixth ward (Clancy) as to the efficiency of Chief Engineer Howard, but there had been less fires during his term of effice because of the insurance pairol under Fire Marshal Baker, which cests the Insurance Companies $40,000 a year.

Baker, which cests the Insurance Companies $40,000 a year.

The report of the committee was adopted by a vote of 13 to 6. Ayes.—Wilson, Harris, Healy, Clancy, Banta, Griffiths, Steers, McConnell, Fulmer, Coulter, McSpedon, McConkey, Drake. Noes.—Corwin, Tucker, Moneghan, Blunt, Valentine, Owens.

The reports in favor of raising the salaries of the City Inspector and Street Commissioner were called up.

Alderman Hixat asked how many Street Commissioners there were, and if all their salaries were to be raised? (Laughter.)

A Mexama—Only one—Devlin, to be sure. (Laughter.)

The matter was laid over until Monday next.

After referring a great number of papers from the Councilmen, the Board adjourned to Friday next at five o'clock.

This Board met yesterday, but transacted no business of public interest. Annexed is the weekly summary of of public interest.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL. MONEY MARKET.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 9-6 P. M.
The stock market is rapidly running down. The dulness and inactivity of winter are fairly upon us, and large holders of railfoad stocks will, in all probability, find it up-hill work to carry them before the lapse of many days. At the first board to-day Tennessee State 6's declined 1 per cent; Missouri 6's, ; Cumberland Coal, 4; New York Central Railroad, 1; Erie, 1; Reading, 1; Michigan Southern, old, 1; do. preferred, 1; Panama, 1; Illinois Central Railroad, 1; Galena and Chicago, 4; Cleveland and Toledo, 1; Chicago and Rock Island, 4. Pactfic Steam-ship Company advanced 4 per cent. At the second board the market was flat, very flat. New York Central fell off 4 per cent; Cumberland Coal, 4; Pacific Steamship Company, 4; Illinois Central Railroad, 2; Chicago and Rock Island, 2. The election for directors in the New York Central Railroad Company came off to-day at Albany. The old board were reelected, with one or two exceptions. The present officers will of course be re-elected, and we shall hear no more of the stockholders' meetings or their efforts to introduce reforms. The annual report of the company will soon be distributed. The stock closed pretty steady to-day. Eric Railroad is in more trouble. The company's checks were not paid at the bank to-day, and the whole thing looks very much as though the sheriff would soon have the disposal

The Assistant Treasurer reports to-day as follows:-

The exportation of specie by the Africa to-day, was not quite so large as anticipated. The highest estimate was two millions of dollars. The shippers estimate was two millions of dollars. The state of the st protection of bills maturing on the other side. The small amounts sent out are for private matters. We understand that a certain lawver in Albany, heretofore ir good standing among politicians and speculators of that city, has commenced a suit against his Wall street broker to recover one thousand dollars lost in stock operations. Cases of this kind are extremely rare. Gambling in stocks, like betting on elections, on the turf, &c., is forbidden by the laws of this State, but it is sanctioned by public opinion. Gambling debts are called "debts of honor," and are held peculiarly sacred among all classes. It is seldom that an operator becomes so insensible to the good opinion of gentlemen that he can demand his money back after it has been once fairly lost.

The exchanges at the Clearing House to-day were $12,719,901 02, and the balances were $759,957 06. It is announced that Mr. Andrew Carrigan, receiver of the Mechanics' Banking Association, will be prepared in the course of a few days to pay the remaining fifty per cent of the outstanding claims against that institution.

The Metropolitan Bank has called for payment on the 22d inst. of the remainder of the subscriptions to its increased capital stock.

At a meeting of the associated banks at the Clearing House this evening, a resolution was offered "that after the 12th inst. all balances at the Clearing House shall be paid in specie"—which 20000 Missouri 6's... 78 550 do.....s3 16x resolution, if adopted, would essentially have been a resumption of specie payments. The banks voting in favor of the resolution were:-

Commerce, America, Manhattan, Merchanta' American Exchange, Phenix, National, Fulton Chemical, Greenwich, Leather Manufacturers' Broadway, Mercantile, Irving—14.

And those voting against it were:

Mechanics', Union, City, State, Republic, Metropolitan, Continental, Tradesmen's, Merchants' Exchange, Ocean, Butchers and Drovers', Chatham, People's, Hanover, Citizens', Nassan, Market, St. Nicholas, Corn Exchange, Park, Commonwealth, Oriental, Marine, Atlantic—24.

The other city banks were not represented at the meeting.

The amount of capital involved in the present financial revulsion exceeds perhaps three or four fold that involved in any previous similar movement. In 1837, when the last great collapse in credit oc-curred, the foreign trade of the United States was considerably less than half of the present aggregate, and at that time it was enormously inflated. The whole of the American trade with Great Britain up to 1837, and at that time, was carried on by three private banking houses in London, known as the three W's-Wild, Wiggin and Wilson. These were three separate and distinct concerns, all engaged in the American trade, and giving credits to importing houses on this side of the Atlantic. When the re-vulsion occurred and the banks of the United States suspended specie payments, about the only effect produced in England was the failure of the three houses above named. The amount involved on the part of the three W's was not over twelve million of capital, and such was the utter rottenness of these houses that the application to the Bank of England for relief and support in their difficulties was never for a moment entertained by the managers of that institution. The refusal was immediate, and the failures at once followed. The United States Bank at that juncture in affairs sent out its agent to London to take the place made vacant by the failures referred to, and to afford the necessary facilities for carrying on our trade. It was not long, however, before the United States Bank got into difficulties, and also applied to the Bank of England for aid. In this case it was as promptly and decidedly refused as in the other, and the same results followed. At that time there was comparatively a small amount of European capital involved in American affairs. We had no railroads of consequence, no very large State debts, no government debt, and very little indebtedness on the part of the people, except in the direct way of trade. The financial revulsion, therefore, that followed years of local extravagance and speculation, had no effect of a corresponding nature in England or on the Continent. It was confined almost entirely to our own limits. A very different state of things exists at the present day. Now a financial revulsion in the United States shakes the great banking institutions and the great private banking houses of Europe to their very foundation. It has brought about a state of affairs in the Bank of England more critical than that institution has ever before experienced. It has forced the bank into a suspension of specie payments, an event that never before occurred in England during a period of peace and plenty. In 1837 where the amount of capital involved in American affairs was tens of millions, it is now hundreds of millions, and there is hardly at this moment a private banking house or a large capitalist throughout Europe but that is in some way affected by the financial revulsion on this side of the water. We are in debt to Europe three or four hundred millions of dollars; and so long as we kept our machinery of the great moneyed institutions of the Old World; but the moment our supplies stopped. that moment the bankruptcy and robienness of many large private banking concerns in Loudon, Liv-erpool, &c., appeared and could no longer be disguised. The moneyed power of Europe must at last admit that the trade of, and their investments in the United States is a matter of the very first importance in the financial affairs and financial operations of the whole world.

The Harlem Railroad Company have issued propo sals for a new loan of $750,000. The bonds bear 7 per cent interest, payable semi-annually, redeema ble in ten years. Preference in the subscription is

1st. To holders of the unsecured bonds of the com pany, payable in 1858, '59, '61, '67 and '72. 2d. To holders of outstanding extension certifi-

3d. To holders of preferred stock.

Payments are to be made as follows:-40 per cent in cash, and 60 per cent at par in unsecured bonds, extension certificates or preferred stock, at any time before January 15th next. Any of the liabilities of the company which are due, and constituting part of the floating debt, to be received as cash. These bonds will be secured by a mortgage on the whole road, its franchises, real estate and rolling stock, subject to the first and second mortgages already given; but this mortgage will be a first lien upon extension certificates issued for the construction of fifty miles of road from Dover Plains to Chatham, amounting to $1,524,000-which certificates are now hypothecated as security for the floating debt. A sinking fund of $39,000 per annum is also provided for, if that sum is earned over and above expenses and interest, to be invested in these bonds as it accumulates. The loan is intended to relieve the road of the claims on which Messes. Vanderbilt and Drew are indorsers, and to give to the subscribers the same security which these gentlemen now hold, thus saving the stockholders and unsecured creditors from an entire extinction of their interest in the property. The indebtedness of the company October 31 was, in unsecured bonds, $550.497 71; 1st mortgage do., $571,000; 2d mortgage, $951,000; floating debt, $750,000-making a total of $4,822,497 71, exclusive of $188,573 35 in real estate bonds and mortgages. It will be seen that—except for the past year there has been a gradual increase in the receipts. The falling off in 1857 is more than accounted for by the fact that in the previous years, under an arrangement in reference to through business, the Marlem Company received from the Hudson River Railroad Company about $70,000 per annum. Taking this into account, the traffic of the past year has increased $50,000 upon that of 1856. The managers anticipate considerable increase of revenue from various sources, and a material reduction in expenses. They conclude an earnest appeal to those interested by expressing their conviction, based upon the results of the few months in which the road has been under their charge, that, if the floating debt can be funded in the manner proposed and without much delay, the future may be looked forward to with hope, and even certainty.

NEW YORK CATTLE MARKET.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 9, 1857.

First quality. 400 a 600 Other qualities 300 a 400 swing.

First quality. 4½c. a 5½c. Other qualities 4c. a 4½c. BEFF CATTLE.

The market opened in Forty fourth street to day with a very good demand, for notwithstanding the indomesney of the weather there was a good altendance and the supply was light; at the other yards the supply was ample. Brokers put up prices about ½c. on most descriptions, and the cattle brought 10c. more readily to day than they did 9½c. last week. There were but few sales at over 10½c., though we heard of some at 11c. but the best cattle were not so good as a few droves which were sold last week, hailing from Kentucky, some of which sold quite readily at 11c. More than half the supply at Allerton's were from this State, and were not in irst rate order. If the weather proves favorable during the coming week we may expect a large supply next We heseday, as numerous droves hailing from the West nave been detained along the route in consequence of the trouble on the Eric Railroad. The yards were in a very disagreeable condition, the mud being three of four inches deep. The cattle sold/well, but the weather depressed the market somewhat and retarded the progress of sales materially. There were offered at Allerton's for the week 1,699 bead, 1,600 of which were on sale to day. About 200 head were disposed of on Monday at Bergen Hill.

COWS AND CALVES.

The demand continues very moderate, but sales are making at about the usual prices.

The market is without change and transactions previous rates.

The market is without change and transactions are at previous rates.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The market has been somewhat depressed since last week, but there was apparent a renewed activity to day, and prices are about as quoted last week.

SWINE.

The receipts of swine during the past week at Allerton's have been enormous, and prices have receded fully $6. per lb. in consequence. There were offered 7,269 head, and sales were made at from 4$6. to 56. a 5$6.6 for the best descriptions. We heard of but one or two lots which brought over 6c., and holders were not very firm at those rates. They are pouring in the city from all directions, and a large number arrived on foot. They are, with few exceptions, in good condition.

can public under the name of Wolfe's Schiedam aromate schinapps.

This gin is manufactured by the proprietor exclusively, at his distillery in Schiedam, Holland. It is made from the best has ley that can be precured in Europe at any cost, and favored and medicated, not by the common harsh berry, but by the most choice botanicsi variety of the aromatic Italian juniper berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectined with its spiritous solvent, and thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite favor and aroma, altogether transcending in its cordial and medicinal properties any alcoholic boverage herestofore known.

The proprietor has submitted it to nearly the whole medical faculty of the United States, and has received answers from about four thousand physicians and chemists, who extores it over their signatures, as a most desirable addition to the materia medica.
